

I will teach you any field for free.

(Academics, perseverance, rational thinking, etc.)

(How to live like a millionaire even though you don't have any money)

What's the point in writing your own novel?

There's nothing I don't understand...!

I'll teach you anything...

This is the basic philosophy of "U.S.W", so we will move ourselves!

The target audience is all of humanity...!

However... it's rude to Mr.Bill Gates...

Other people...and people who are proud that there is nothing more to be learned.

Except...forcing me to teach even though I've been forcefully refused...

I am publishing a novel called ``Don't hold back"...

This is just amazing... For those who are in the hospital and are suffering for a long time.

Forcing someone to teach me...is too cruel!

Well...the royalties for the novel are currently 0 yen, so it's not like I'm writing to make money.

Because there isn't!

The only thing left is... whether you have the courage to meet me directly!

P.S.: As expected, the midges are attracted to my sweet scent!

It's flying around me while I'm playing the piano in another room!
